As you will note in this mid-year Communiqué, the last six months have been exhilarating at the Albuquerque Community Foundation. Unprecedented growth has allowed the Foundation to hire additional staff members and to expand our office space. (Watch for more details on this soon.) Additional staff has allowed us to introduce new giving programs including family philanthropy and an expanded corporate giving program. Growth has allowed the Foundation to undertake its first major leadership initiative targeted at reducing food insecurity, a statewide challenge that must be addressed. Growth in the endowment led to awarding more grants in 2007 than ever before and expanding to two grant cycles per year to better accommodate the nonprofit organizations we serve.

It’s an exciting time for the Community Foundation. Foundation staff, donors and other community partners are breaking new ground and spreading the seeds of hope for the greater Albuquerque community and for its entire people.

NEW MEXICO ETHICS IN BUSINESS AWARD

The Foundation is honored to announce that it has been chosen to receive the 2008 Samaritan Counseling Center’s New Mexico Ethics in Business Award in the Not-for-Profit category! According to the committee, ACF was chosen because “the organization demonstrates business excellence and the highest standards of ethical conduct, integrity and civic and social responsibility.” Foundation staff and Board will accept the award on Monday, April 7th. If you would like to attend the Awards Dinner, tickets are $125 each and can be purchased from Samaritan Counseling, 505.842.5300.

PASSING PHILANTHROPIC VALUES TO THE NEXT GENERATION

Often charitable individuals who understand the value and importance of giving back to the community want to promote and encourage the same philanthropic spirit among the children in their lives. Establishing a family fund allows family members to collaborate in determining how best to make a difference in the community. The ease and flexibility to direct grants as often as you like, and to the organizations and in the amounts that you wish, make this fund ideal for anyone.

Family-advised funds begin with a $25,000 contribution and can be grown over 5 years. To learn more, please contact us at 505.883.6240.

During a recent family philanthropy gathering, children worked together to package 200 snack bags for the APS Title 1 Homeless Program.
CORPORATE GIVING THROUGH THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

Establishing a corporate-advised fund is like opening a “Charitable Checking Account”. Most businesses get a multitude of donation requests from nonprofit organizations representing many important charitable causes. Your business can donate cash or other assets to your permanent fund at the Community Foundation. Funds will then be available for you to grant to any IRS approved 501 (c) 3 nonprofit, educational or governmental agencies. Grants can be made at any time and in any amount as long as funds are available. Some businesses involve their employees in the grant distribution process. Foundation staff is available to handle requests for funding, monitor results, issue checks and provide you with quarterly statements which include contributions and grant history. If you would like, the Foundation staff is happy to provide grant requests for your consideration. A corporate-advised fund begins with a $25,000 gift and can be grown over five years.

CITADEL COMMUNICATIONS ENDOWMENT TO EXPAND MUSIC IN APS ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

Citadel Communications (operating 8 radio stations in the ABQ market) is an example of a business that has established a permanent fund at the Foundation. Choosing to support programs that offer music to young people, Citadel awarded a grant this year to the UNM Children’s Chorus for scholarships for low-income students to participate in the chorus - a non-auditioned chorus for boys and girls in kindergarten through eighth grade. The UNM chorus provides an opportunity for any child to sing. In case you are interested, the group will perform a spring concert on May 4th, 2:30 pm at Keller Hall!

THE ART OF GIVING

More than 800 donors and friends of the Foundation gathered last October for the Foundation’s annual luncheon, “The Art of Giving.” Board president Dr. Barry Ramo welcomed guests while Executive Director Randy Royster described how the Foundation helps donors fulfill their art of giving for the benefit of the community. Special guest speaker David Neeleman, Chairman of JetBlue Airways, discussed philanthropy and how to be a leader that others want to follow.

Grants in Action

Community Foundation grants to organizations providing direct services to youth in foster care have often focused on life skills training for the hundreds of teens who annually “age out” of the system. Youth in foster care are among the most at-risk children with a greater risk of poor life outcomes. Nationally and locally, former foster care youth are more likely to become homeless, incarcerated or dependent on state services.

In Albuquerque, La Familia, Inc. continues to expand its Living Skills Training Program to provide critical life skills for teens with the assistance of Community Foundation grants. A 2007-08 grant of $10,000 focuses on providing critical training to foster care youth with mental health needs. The funding for this grant was made possible by the Nicholas C. Nellos Memorial Fund for At-Risk Children that was established in 2002 “to affect positive change in the lives of children and adolescents at risk for violent behavior.” The Nellos family felt the proposal for funding from La Familia was directly within the mission of Nick's memorial fund.

Another recent grant assisting children in foster care is a $5,000 grant to the New Mexico Chapter of the Adoption Exchange to assist the agency in finding permanent and loving homes for children. This grant will help recruit adoptive families or individuals interested in adopting special needs children in foster care. This grant was made possible from the Para los Niños and Effective Families funds within the Community Foundation.

Jim and Ann Nelson Fund

A new endowment fund was established in 2007 that will provide student aid resources for foster care children beginning in 2009. Compared to their peers foster children have higher dropout rates and lower test scores. Education has been found to be a key factor in determining whether foster children successfully transition to adulthood.

Jim and Ann Nelson are volunteers for CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) an organization that oversees care for children in state custody. CASA volunteers speak for the best interests of abused and neglected children in court. Over the years the Nelsons have developed a great respect for social workers and foster parents who work with these children on a daily basis. They have seen first-hand the significant resources allocated to support children up until their 18th birthday, only then to be dropped from the foster care program with no further assistance. The Nelsons wanted to help ensure the opportunity for a successful transition into adulthood. At age 18, it is extremely difficult to support yourself while attempting to continue your education in hopes of a brighter future. The Nelsons’ student aid fund will award grants to young adults aging out of foster care who want to develop a marketable skill or continue their formal education. They hope they can positively impact the lives of young people who have already suffered from the insecurity of an unstable childhood.

Philanthropy Central
In addition to the role as a leader in encouraging philanthropy and grantmaking, the Community Foundation works with other nonprofit organizations to establish and build their own endowment funds within the Foundation. All nonprofit organizations can benefit from the income an endowment fund with the Foundation provides. These funds provide better investment opportunities than any one smaller fund invested separately. Organizations are free to add to their endowments at any time and have the option of receiving an annual distribution or reinvesting for growth of their fund. The Foundation currently holds the endowments of over 75 nonprofit organizations. Several organizations have multiple funds established through different donors or for varied purposes within their organization. Following are a few of the recently established Philanthropy Central funds:

Albuquerque Crime Stoppers, Inc.
In 1976, a young UNM student was shot to death while working a shift for a friend at a local gas station. After six weeks of trying to piece evidence together, the detective working the case was no closer to a solution than he was the night of the crime. He had the idea of reenacting the crime for air on local television hoping this might trigger the memory of a potential eyewitness. It worked. The morning following the first broadcast a young man called with information that would solve the case. Local businesses became involved and Albuquerque Metro Crime Stoppers was established. As a result of the success of the Albuquerque organization, Crime Stopper Programs are now worldwide. The original program has expanded into local schools with a program called Campus Crime Stoppers.

Albuquerque Rose Society
With a mission statement to “promote and celebrate our national flower and to provide educational opportunities to increase the public’s knowledge of and appreciation of the rose,” the Albuquerque Rose Society hosts a variety of activities throughout the year including two rose shows and numerous presentations to organizations. The Albuquerque Rose Society planted and maintains the Albuquerque Rose Garden. With about 1,200 bushes comprising 30 types, the Albuquerque Rose Garden is located on the grounds of the Wyoming Regional Library and is a true city treasure. As part of their mission of education, members provide extensive pruning demonstrations every spring and maintain a list of roses that grow well in Albuquerque and make it available to garden visitors.

Casa Esperanza
In a quiet location convenient to all Albuquerque hospitals, Casa Esperanza offers a home for families who have been referred to Albuquerque for cancer treatment. The 18,000 square foot residence can accommodate 28 families in private living units, for both long and short term care. Recently a beautiful backyard playground for children was added to enhance the family atmosphere.

De Profundis
In 1994, thirteen men gathered for the first time to begin making music, and “to embark together on a voyage of exploration and discovery.” Today, they continue to make music and to expand their dream performing in new venues and to new audiences. de Profundis is Latin for “out of the deep” which describes the uniqueness of the male voice. Listeners describe their music as “breathtaking”.

PB&J Family Services
PB&J believes that through intensive therapeutic counseling, support, parenting education, early intervention and prevention, and case management services, seriously challenged families can learn the skills necessary to survive and even thrive – thus, helping to build the foundation for parents to provide a safe and nurturing environment for their children. PB&J’s philosophy focuses efforts on the family as a unit, as well as on individual family members. This approach takes into account the powerful and unique reciprocal relationship between parent and child, and the impact they have on one another. By enhancing the family members’ sense of self-worth and competency, this will strengthen each individual’s ability to develop as a capable and responsible citizen of our community.

WildEarth Guardians
Forest Guardians and Sinapu, two regional conservation groups have joined forces to create a stronger organization to protect and restore the wild places, wildlife and wild rivers in the American West. The new organization, WildEarth Guardians, creates a conservation force that will pressure policy-makers and government agencies to better protect and restore the lands, wildlife and waters from the Great Plains and Desert Southwest across the Rockies and through the Intermountain West. WildEarth Guardians has a Climate & Energy Program that focuses on addressing the climate crisis by challenging fossil fuel extraction and use, promoting energy conservation, and promoting appropriate sustainable energy.

25th Anniversary for Foundation Partner
People Living Through Cancer

PLTC began 25 years ago when five cancer survivors decided to take control of their destinies and change the way survivorship is understood and lived. In 1982, Catherine Logan-Carrillo began her journey after she was diagnosed with cervical cancer.

“I began seeing a counselor after the diagnosis, because I knew of nowhere else to turn. Counseling was helpful, but I still felt alone. The counselor referred me to a divorce support group so that I could talk with others going through difficult life transitions. I liked the group, but it wasn’t really what I needed.”, said Catherine. Later, Catherine called together a group of counselors to discuss putting on a conference for people with cancer and their families. The counselors pointed out that others dealing with cancer diagnoses needed to be involved. With the help of several oncologists and other cancer survivors PLTC was founded.

In 1984, Albuquerque Community Foundation provided one of the first foundation grants to the nonprofit, aiding in the organization’s ability to grow. By 1998, PLTC was ready to grow an endowment and placed their funds with the Community Foundation. PLTC reached out as an acknowledged force in the oncology community in the 90s and as the first survivorship organization in New Mexico. PLTC drew attention to the value of peer support. Today, peer support is the organization’s most requested services. The organization grew from one small support group to 19 groups in the 1990s to 37 groups today.

In celebration of this milestone anniversary, The People’s Caring Awards Dessert Reception is scheduled for Sunday, June 29th at the Marriott Pyramid. For ticket information, call 505.242.3263.

Matching Gift Programs
Check with your employer to see if they offer a matching gift program (your gift to a qualified nonprofit organization is matched up to a certain percentage). The following businesses and Foundations are currently matching gifts to the Community Foundation: Aegon TransAmerica Foundation, Bank of America, PNM Resources Foundation and Prudential Foundation.

United Way of Central New Mexico

In 1996, the United Way of Central New Mexico introduced a new annual giving program, the Alexis de Tocqueville Society for donors who contribute $10,000 or more annually through the United Way. The Society encourages philanthropy and its role in the community.

This year the United Way developed a program with the Community Foundation to allow Alexis de Tocqueville donors to ensure their participation in the Society forever. By establishing a $200,000 endowed fund with the Community Foundation, which can be grown over a number of years, or made through a life insurance contract, donors can be assured a minimum of $10,000 a year will be granted in their name to the Alexis de Tocqueville Society, forever.

Following are the donors who have begun building a Society Endowment fund:
H. Patrick and Debra Jo Dee
Brad and Kathy Day
John Cochran and Carol Mayo Cochran
Herman and Emily Mauney

SAVE THE DATE!

The Community Foundation’s Biggest Annual Event

Save the date for the ACF annual luncheon on Thursday, September 11, 2008, 11:30 a.m. at Hotel Albuquerque.

This year the Foundation will be highlighting many of the nonprofit organizations receiving grants and also presenting P.F. Chang’s China Bistro Chairman of the Board and CEO, Rick Federico, discussing his philanthropy with children.
Thank You!

We are grateful for these donors who have contributed to the Foundation’s annual Partners in Philanthropy campaign to support our mission. With your help, we continue to build endowments and create an enduring legacy for future generations. These gifts enable the Foundation to enhance grantmaking and student aid programs, customize services to donors and charitable organizations and provide a lasting resource for future generations. It is not too late to join this year’s Partners. For information about this program, contact us at 505.883.6240.

Concours du Soleil

Last September the Future Fund (the Foundation’s young donor group) collaborated with donors who established a new endowment fund, the Cinco Amigos Fund, to present “Concours du Soleil”, a truly magnificent auto show. Attendees unanimously agreed the collection was as impressive as some of the most prestigious auto shows in the U.S.!

Concours kicked off with an elegant private party at a beautiful north valley estate. Guests strolled through the collection enjoying every bumper and every curve. Dinner and dancing under the stars to the outrageous “Vanilla Pop” followed.

A public show of the collection followed the next day drawing over 1,000 auto enthusiasts.

Concours du Soleil netted over $50,000 benefiting two endowment funds held by the Community Foundation: the Cinco Amigos Fund and the Future Fund as well as two preselected local nonprofit organizations who also participated in organizing the weekend, All Faiths Receiving Home and Cuidando los Niños.

Plans are underway for this year’s Concours du Soleil. If you would like information on sponsorship, tickets or entering a car, contact Kelli Cooper or Cathy Cavanaugh at the Foundation office, 505.883.6240.

Hunger is Here

Many people may think hunger affects only poor countries thousands of miles across an ocean. Unfortunately, hunger is in America and right here in New Mexico. According to the most recent USDA data, New Mexico leads the nation in hunger. The bottom line is that one in six New Mexicans do not know where their next meal will come from.

Last March a task force convened to develop a plan to move New Mexico from #1 to #5 in food insecurity over the next three years. They developed The New Mexico Plan to End Hunger. Today, 30 public and private entities including every Community Foundation in the state, the McCune Foundation, PNM & PNM Resources Foundation, UNM’s Research Service Learning Program, St. Joseph Health Foundation, Farm to Table, New Mexico Association of Food Banks and many others are collaborating to attain this goal.

The five primary goals of the plan include:

- stop childhood hunger
- supply adequate food for seniors
- improve access to food in rural and underserved communities
- full participation in public food assistance programs (such as Food Stamps)
- increase awareness of hunger and those who are hungry

The Albuquerque Community Foundation has committed $300,000 over the next three years to support the plan. If you would like more information or to help in any way, we would like to hear from you. Call us at 505.883.6240.
