“We Rise by Lifting Others.”

Robert Green Ingersoll
Basement Films
Updating and cataloging an archive of 8,000 films, working with Albuquerque Public Schools on a student film-intern program, supporting the Experiments in Cinema Festival and developing new opportunities with arts venues and local businesses for future partnerships.
Casa de Salud
The Health Apprentice Program provides young people with hands-on experience in a clinical setting prior to pursuing graduate/professional degrees in medical fields. The program builds a pipeline of healthcare workers, specifically focused on supporting medical careers of low-income populations.
Horizons Albuquerque
A summer program for Kindergarten through 6th grade addressing the achievement gap and summer learning loss for public school students from low-income families. Academics, arts, sports, cultural enrichment and confidence-building activities are supplemented through the school year with family engagement workshops and tutoring.
Rio Grande Community Farm
Las Huertas, a skills development program dedicated to training both current and aspiring producers in certified organic farming techniques, specific to the arid environment of New Mexico and assisting them to become small-scale food entrepreneurs.
Paws & Stripes
The Helping Dogs, Helping Heroes program supports veterans living below the federal poverty threshold and experiencing debilitating PTSD and/or traumatic brain injury. Graduates have become teachers, businesses owners, sought higher education and encouraged other veterans to participate and benefit from these services.
Fathers Building Futures
A social enterprise (non-profit applying commercial strategies including revenue earning to respond to social needs) managed by and for formerly incarcerated parents. Participants are provided training for financial stability including employment, budgeting, savings programs and financial education coaching.
For 36 years, the Albuquerque Community Foundation’s generous donors have collectively supported hundreds of nonprofit organizations and thousands of people from communities throughout the Greater Albuquerque Area. As we continue to back programming deliberately focused on providing access to economic opportunities for all, we invite you to join our work.

Field-of-Interest Endowment Funds ensure resources for today and tomorrow. Gifts of all amounts are welcome for any area of need.

Impact

The truth is, our community has many needs. By working together, we will make Albuquerque a place where every person can reach their full potential. A community where we all acknowledge the inherent value of all our neighbors. A community where all people have the opportunity to thrive. A community lifting itself, one life at a time.
